FRINGE PROJECTS

Temporary public artworks that integrate, investigate, and interrogate Downtown Miami's less conventional spaces at sites determined by the artists, launched during DWNTWN Art Days and curated by Amanda Sanfilippo.

Featured:

David Brooks

A Day In the Life of the Coral
(as seen near Brewster Reef), 2015

An expedition to Brewster Reef (7.5 nautical miles off Museum Park), bringing the reef's significance into literal view. Museum Park, 1075 Biscayne Blvd., Downtown

Nate Page

Limo, 2015

A dramatic intervention into the urban fabric of Downtown Miami that inserts a stretch limousine with the front fender facing the sky [what do you mean inserts a stretch limousine? Inserts it where?]. The image of the limo engages ideas of luxury and the skyline, and brings into question notions of "high-end" living in light of Miami's rapid pace of development and mythology of excess. 227 NE 2nd Str., Downtown
